EDITOR'S LETTER

Dear Readers,

Happy Springtime from gusher!

There are lots of things to be excited about during this season: warmer weather, flowers in bloom, and quality patio time with family and friends. There are also many things to be excited about during this season in the Junior League of Tulsa: recruiting new members, placements for next year, and the annual Mentorship Luncheon.

Although a newer addition to the fundraising event cycle in our League, the Mentorship Luncheon not only provides an opportunity to connect with your own mentor while hearing from a top woman leader, but it also highlights our annual scholarship winners and acknowledges their accomplishments and goals to become great women and leaders in their community.

I believe having that person, that mentor-figure in your life, is critical to one's personal growth, and I know that without the mentors in my life I would be so much less the person that I am today. These individuals, all women, have inspired me daily and at different walks in my life to strive to be better, to do good, and to make a positive impact on those around me.

I dedicate this issue to my Grandma Rosemary for teaching me that just because you're a woman doesn't mean you can't have a voice – and a strong one at that. She taught me how to voice my opinions, the importance of making life exciting, and that cashmere is a fabric worth splurging for.

I dedicate this issue to my mom (of course). I'm so very lucky to have a mother who is kind, generous with her time and resources, and selfless. She is the woman who although we are different in personality, I hope to be in action. She is the strongest, yet most gentle person I know, and I am proud to be her daughter.

And finally, I dedicate this issue to my Sustaining Advisor and dear friend for life, Lucia O'Connor. She is the calming force in my crazy and hectic life and always has the right thing to say in both good times and bad. The way that she loves and cares for the people in her life is the way that I hope to be towards all the people in my life. She exemplifies the title "community leader," and if I can create even half the impact on Tulsa that she has created throughout her life, I will consider my life a success.

Dear readers, I hope that you, too, have that mentor or mentors in your life to encourage you and to provide insight and education to life in general. Because without mentors, who are the compasses of our lives, we would be lost and less focused on the important things in life. Thank your mentors and let them know how much you appreciate them.

JLT Mentorship Luncheon with Tory Johnson

New York Times best-selling author and Good Morning America contributor, Tory Johnson will be the keynote speaker at the Junior League of Tulsa's annual Mentorship Luncheon on April 24.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Happy Spring!

It is hard to believe that the 2014-15 League year is coming to an end. It has been such a privilege to serve as your President. Thank you to our members for being Stars in the Community this year. Your efforts to combat poverty have transformed Tulsa!

This edition of gusher, "Stand By Me", highlights the League's third annual Magic of Mentorship Luncheon, which will be held on Friday, April 24th, at Southern Hills Country Club. We are thrilled to welcome New York Times best-selling author and Good Morning America contributor, Tory Johnson, as our featured speaker this year. I hope you plan to join our celebration of the power of mentorship. The League will be awarding $16,000 in college scholarships at this event.

Additionally, this edition spotlights the 2015-16 JLT Board of Directors. Congrats to this outstanding group of women selected to lead our organization in the coming year. This incredible board is already hard at work and is anxious to unveil their plans in the months to come. The future of our organization is incredibly bright!

Finally, this edition features a story on the recent facelift of our headquarters building. As many of you know, the League underwent major renovations during the summer and fall of 2014. It was certainly challenging to conduct League business while our building was closed, and I appreciate everyone's patience during the process. Be sure and stop by to check out HQ's new look soon. I would like to extend a special thank you to the following members who faithfully served on the HQ Improvements Task Force this year: Bailey Austin, Rita Burke, Carissa Cooper, Katherine Haskell, Cyndi Kernan, Lacy Lowry, Mary Beth Nesser, Nicole Randolph, and Maggie Robinson. Thanks to the hard work and effort of these ladies, HQ was able to reopen in October 2014.

Please keep in mind that HQ is available to rent and has space to accommodate any type of event from a small meeting to a large party.

Thank you for sharing your time and talents with JLT. I wish you continued blessings in 2015.

MENTORSHIP Luncheon

by Sandy Martinez

This spring, the Junior League of Tulsa will come together and celebrate the women who have provided mentorship and leadership to others at the third annual Mentorship Luncheon on April 24, 2015, at Southern Hills Country Club. The League is pleased to be able to gather together among professional women who are learning, exchanging, and advancing at every stage of their lives and careers through the guidance of other women. This dynamic organization not only serves the community in a variety of programs through fundraising and service, but it also allows for women to make meaningful connections through events, education, and mentoring. By sharing values, contributions, and experiences, members improve leadership skills both personally and professionally.

Tory Johnson will be the guest of honor at this year's event, and the Mentorship Luncheon Committee is thrilled to bring a nationally recognized keynote speaker who has been a mentor to thousands of women across the United States to Tulsa. Tory Johnson has been recognized as a New York Times best-selling author and contributing editor to SUCCESS Magazine. She is also a popular weekly correspondent on ABC's Good Morning America and is known for the "Deals and Steals" weekly segment.

After a painful firing, Tory made the shift from employee to entrepreneur and built two multi-million dollar career focused businesses, Women for Hire and Spark & Hustle. Tory has blossomed in the business world but she still struggled to find acceptance with herself. After a conversation with a TV executive, Tory was given the inspiration she needed to conquer her life-long battle with weight. She was ready to make a major shift in the way she presented herself and her image. Her 2013 bestseller book, The Shift, details how she lost 62 pounds in one year. She is now a mentor to others who have physically and mentally struggled to lose weight.

According to Tory, "Sometimes you need an expert with specific information, life experience, and advice that will help you move forward. That's when you need a mentor. She is a counselor, guide, leader, and pin-up picture on your calendar of success. Sometimes the idea of mentoring seems too grandiose, especially for busy women who spend so much time working to make our community better. To be a mentor takes time and courage but it can truly change another person's life. The Junior League of Tulsa is truly trend-setting in the area of mentorship most times, unknowingly. For the women who serve as committee chairs, we often see their mentorship and guidance to those who serve with them on their committee."

Tory also says, "One of the most rewarding ways to give is to pass along some of what you know to someone who is just getting started in the work world or is in somewhat of a rut. You don't have to be some high-powered executive with a big title and six-figure salary to have something great to offer. Look at the people around you. Is there someone new at the office who is having a rough start? Maybe there's a disgruntled colleague stuck in a rut. Take a chance at providing that person with the benefit of your advice."

The Mentorship Luncheon also marks

and opportunity for The Junior League of Tulsa to honor its annual scholarship recipients. The League is proud to award two $4,000 Founders' Scholarships to graduating high school women who demonstrate exceptional commitment to academics and voluntarism and two $4,000 Mrs. W. Albert Cook Scholarships to nontraditional students - women returning to their studies after an absence or just beginning their higher education, based primarily on financial need and a commitment to completing a degree. The League is pleased to award a grand total of $16,000 in scholarship monies to very deserving women in the community. Proceeds from the Mentorship Luncheon exclusively fund these scholarship programs. As the Luncheon grows with every passing year, the number of scholarships that are awarded to deserving candidates likewise increases.

"Sometimes the person who provides you with exceptional inspiration doesn't even know your name."

-Tory Johnson

April 2014 brought beautiful spring weather to Tulsa, but it also brought heavy rain showers that all Oklahomans come to expect with spring. One particularly heavy rain storm hit Tulsa in late April, causing the beautiful Junior League of Tulsa headquarters building to flood in the kitchen and the women's restroom. While the cleanup process was taking place, mold was discovered in the building. This discovery prompted the incoming Board of Directors to assemble the HQ Improvements Task Force. The HQ Task Force included Alison Wade, Carissa Cooper, Cyndi Kernan, Katherine Haskell, Maggie Robinson, Mary Beth Nesser, Nicole Randolph, and Rita Burke, with the assistance of JLT staff member Lacy Lowry.

Construction on the building began in August to eradicate the mold and perform the necessary updates to our building. During this time, the HQ Task Force, led by Alison Wade, worked in a temporary office location that was graciously donated by Mr. Byron Burke (Rita Burke's father-in-law) to stay on track of the building's construction timeline and progress

By September, construction was in full swing with the dust really flying. All three skylights were removed from the building and replaced with solid framing/metal cap covers. The windows throughout the building were resealed to ensure that they were water tight (to avoid any future flooding). In order to help prevent future flooding, the grounds around the building had to be reconfigured with French drains to effectively flow the water away from the areas that were infiltrating the building's structure.

By October, the final touches were being put on the newly remolded headquarters. A fresh coat of paint was done on the walls; laminate flooring and new carpeting completed the much needed updates to JLT's home. Within the same month, the monthly General Membership Meeting was able to be held at HQ.

However, like all construction jobs, the work is not always done. Now that the structural work is complete, focus has shifted on to the furniture that was badly damaged in the flooding, and the goal is to replace all of it. With the new configuration/placement of the French drains on the grounds, landscaping will need to be done to bring the exterior of the building back up to the beautiful standards that members are used to.

Turley

RESIDENTIAL CENTER

by Ashley Philippsen

The Junior League of Tulsa has worked with in the past with the Resonance Center for Women to develop a social venture for the Resonance client base, women challenged by the criminal justice system. This year the League added another committee whose goal is to coordinate the development of a program with women at the Turley Residential Center who are transitioning back into society and the workforce. Committee members are working with Resonance to educate, mentor, and provide enrichment opportunities, including social relationship building activities and opportunities to learn healthy hobbies.

Whitney Mathews, Resonance-Turley Committee Chair, provided insights on the aim, impact, and the year for her committee.

"Choosing to Change (C2C) is a service committee focused on working with women in Resonance's Choosing to Change Program. These women have made a commitment to change their lives upon their reentry into the community, and we want to make sure they're equipped with the skills to do so. We meet with the C2C women every other Tuesday and focus on something different each week. We realize that many of these women lack the skill of just "hanging out"--many of them have struggled with addiction for a long time and learning to be in a social setting without drugs or alcohol can be challenging. We get to socialize with these women, listen to and encourage them, and work on various projects with them. The women we've worked with so far have enjoyed working on service based projects and giving back--so it's been great to get to help them do that!"

What are three words to describe the committee's experience this year and why? "Challenging, learning, and rewarding. As a brand new committee, it was initially challenging to figure out what kind of activities to do with the women in the program. However, once we got a sort of curriculum figured out, we were good to go. It's been a process of learning and changing the curriculum as we've moved on. We've learned a great deal about what these women go through that lead them to spend time in prison--circumstances a lot of us really can't even fathom. It's been eye opening to hear some of their stories and inspiring to hear that despite all they're up against. These women are committing to changing their lives. This has been an incredibly rewarding experience."

What do you consider your biggest win this year? "Our biggest win is the positive feedback we've received from the women in the program as well as Resonance."

How can/should other League members support this initiative? "This is a great committee that goes right to the heart of JLT's mission--helping women overcome significant challenges in their lives in order to be more productive citizens and help break the cycle of crime and poverty.' It's understandable that the nature of the committee's work might scare some people away, but this initiative and the women in the C2C program are well worth the investment of JLT's time and resources. This is absolutely a committee worth spending a year (or more!) working with--consider scrambling for it even if it is out of your comfort zone! Additionally, we are always looking for members who might have some connection to work we're doing with the C2C women. If you know of someone or another organization that would be willing to donate food, art supplies, games, or "spa" like supplies, let us know!"

Who is on your committee? "Whitney Mathews (Chair), Rania Nasreddine (Vice Chair), Ashley Cockerham, Quinn Cooper, Brooke Fielder, Jennifer Hanna, Maureen Johnson, Samantha Martinez, Carly McKeon, Gauri Nautiyal, Tamara Noel, Tiffanie Primeaux, and Ginny Seeley"

What are you all looking forward to this spring with Turley? "We are really excited to be working with another group of women focused on changing their lives for the better and seeing them through to graduation."

Where can one find more information about Turley and JLT's involvement with Turley? <http://www.resonancetulsa.org/whatwedo/re-entry-services/>

COMMUNITY ADVISORY BOARD SPOTLIGHT ON BERNARD HAIRS

by Ashley Philippsen

- 1. How many years have you lived in Tulsa? I moved to Tulsa in 2006 after marrying my wife Jenny.
- 2. What is one word that best describes Tulsa? Home. Due to work and family, I have had the opportunity to live many places including Chicago, Miami, London, Dallas, and Austin. But when I moved to Tulsa I quickly felt this would be my home.
- 3. What are three words to describe yourself? Honest, friendly, and loyal
- 4. What other community work have you been involved in? I'm currently serving my fourth year on the Board of Leadership Tulsa. I am currently Vice President of the Programs Committee. I have also served as Task Force Chair for the development and implementation of the Leadership Tulsa Legacy Circle & Planned Giving Programs. I have also served as Vice President of the Membership Committee and enjoy working with the Jenks Public Schools Foundation.
- 5. What does the Junior League offer to Tulsa? For me, Junior League is one of the organizations that has made Tulsa the community I choose to call home and raise my family. For over 90 years, Junior League has contributed to the Tulsa community by promoting voluntarism, education, and charitable causes. Leadership Tulsa is the primary organization I work with to serve the Tulsa community. Leadership Tulsa originated from a Junior League initiative, so Junior League of Tulsa has had an effect on our family in many ways.
- 6. What are your hobbies? I play golf and love to travel with my wife and kids to sporting events around the world. Most of our time these days are spent taking our kids to soccer and pom practices.

- 7. Who makes up your family? There is my wife Jenny, daughter Morgan (age 16), and sons Bryson (age 7) and Jaxson (age 3).
- 8. How did you get involved in the CAB? I chaired a Task Force for Leadership Tulsa to develop a Legacy Circle to offer free estate planning to our members and establish a planned giving program benefiting Leadership Tulsa. My wife is a former member of the Junior League of Tulsa, and through her I was asked to help Junior League develop a customized program benefiting Junior League's members.
- 9. What is the best advice you can give to someone looking to volunteer in their community? My best advice is to contact a Tulsa organization who has a mission of developing Tulsa's leaders and connecting them with community service opportunities. Leadership Tulsa, Junior League of Tulsa, Tulsa's Young Professionals, and the North Tulsa Development Council are all great places to start.

MEMBER CAMPAIGN

For the upcoming year, the Junior League of Tulsa (JLT) has launched a campaign to promote inactive Sustainers and members to “ReMember JLT” and the legacy of caring that began 90 years ago. The campaign encourages individuals to rejoin the league as either an Active Member or Sustainer.

Annabel Jones
Sustainer Engagement Committee Chair

“We all lead busy lives and sometimes our lives get too full for Junior League. For Sustainers, the ‘ReMember’ campaign is a great opportunity to reengage with old friends and continue to improve the community with The Junior League of Tulsa,” said Annabel Jones, Sustainer

Engagement Committee Chair.

The “ReMember” campaign has begun and will continue through the Spring of 2016 providing inactive Members with a chance to immediately reconnect with the JLT mission. All inactive Members in good standing will be permitted to rejoin without repeating their Provisional year or incurring a financial penalty.

“After I ‘ReMembered,’ I had a renewed commitment to the League, and since I came back I was able to engage with the League more. It has opened doors within the community that I might not have had. I now have the opportunity to fulfill my obligations and become a Sustainer in the future,” said Whitney Stauffer, Active Member. “Thanks to Rita Burke for encouraging me to ‘ReMember.’”

HELLO, SUSTAINERS!

I love Tulsa in April. I truly believe Tulsa is at its loveliest the first two weeks of April. We are so fortunate to call Tulsa home.

Mentors. All of us are also fortunate to have mentors---experienced and trusted advisors. They come in many forms - an older friend or sibling, parent, aunt, uncle, teacher, or boss.

I suspect most of you have at least one JLT member who is your mentor. She showed you the ropes when you were a Provisional. She may have been your first committee Chair. She provided valuable advice and perspective as you balanced family, work, and volunteer commitments. Your paths may have diverged over the years, but she made a difference in your life and in the Junior League of Tulsa.

This gusher is focused on mentoring. I hope you spend some time thinking about your mentor and invite her to our Mentorship Luncheon on April 24. What a great way to show your appreciation.

April is a busy month for our Sustainers. Our spring party is April 9, and our Crystal Bridges bus trip is April 25. Both of these events promise to be FUN and engaging for Sustainers of all ages.

Our interest groups, Restaurant Club, Lunch Club, Book Club, and Catch Up Over Cocktails continue to have full participation. This month we will be saying goodbye to our Restaurant Club Liaison, Ann Foster, who has faithfully led the Restaurant Club since its inception. Ann is being transferred to the Dallas area. We will miss her. She has been so important to the growth of our group!

We hope to see you at our Sustainer activities this spring!

Sincerely,

*Sustainer Engagement
Committee Chair, 2014-2015*
